3:00 p. m.—Report of the executive committee and other committees.

Adjournment.

The work of this convention is expected to be especially significant in that it is the first regular convention held since the reorganization of this state. The convention will be composed of delegates from all the Baptist churches of New Mexico and as a body will be the most important of the kind ever held in this state. Provision has been made for a large number of delegates.

The closing Democratic rally of the present political campaign was held here under the auspices of the Wilson-McCormack club of Otero county. A representative crowd participated in the rally in the district court room and enjoyed the several addresses. Some disappointment was felt in that the principal speaker of the evening, George Estes, of El Paso, was unavoidably delayed by an untidy automobile and did not reach the city until after nine o'clock. The interval, however, was filled by addresses by Geo. M. Moffit, of Otero county, a member of the late state constitutional convention from this county, and J. L. Lawson, of this city, chairman of the Wilson-McCormack club. A feature of the evening was the reading of Gov. Wilson's statement of principles to the American people by Miss Avery Oliver, of this city.

Tiling Company Formed.

A movement fraught with much material benefit to this section has been inaugurated here in the organization of a company for the manufacture of tiles to be used in sub-irrigation. This company will be known as the Alamogordo Sub-irrigating Tile company and was organized with the following officers: L. N. Jones, president; A. P. Monaghan, secretary, and J. P. Lewis, treasurer. The company is composed of men who are interested in sub-irrigation and have been experimenting along that line with marked success. Machinery has been ordered for the making of tiling for this purpose and a fully equipped plant will be constructed during the present month.

By means of sub-irrigation in accordance with the process planned, it is estimated that sufficient moisture can be supplied with about one-fourth of the water necessary for surface irrigation. The estimated cost per acre for preparing land for sub-irrigation according to the plans of the promoters, will be about $130 per acre, and in view of the fact, as claimed, that sub-irrigation is much more effective than surface irrigation, this expense will be comparatively small. This system of irrigation is also expected to have a most salutary effect on irrigation by means of wells and pumping plants, which is now only in its infant stage in the Sacramento valley.

The cold nights during the past week have been especially damaging to vegetation, and as a result the beautiful shade trees of the city are rapidly shedding their foliage.

ELECTION MAKES TRAVEL

LIGHT ON ALL RAILROADS

Travel is light, hotel business is slim and the merchants are having a temporary slump in the out-of-town trade because of the approaching election Tuesday. Few people are traveling, because they wish to be at home to vote. The hotel registers show that only a small part of the usual Sunday and Monday arrivals are here this week. Few are coming from the surrounding towns and cities, as they do not wish to be away from home on election day. The travel at the union station is noticeably light, and the Golden State limited trains are running with few passengers, because of the election.

The Man of the Hour In the Balkans

King Ferdinand, of Bulgaria, under whose directions his victorious army has succeeded in turning the Turkish forces at Adrianople and advancing to Constantinople.

COURTS TO BEGIN WORK WEDNESDAY

On account of the impending general election, the opening day of the November term of the district and county courts, which should have been Monday, was practically postponed until Wednesday.

The grand jury of the 24th district court was empaneled and the members went into session.

Judge A. S. J. Ryker, of the county court, stated he would formally open that court for the new term Wednesday morning, at which time the criminal docket will be taken up. County attorney W. W. Bridgers is preparing the criminal case settings for the term. The Pullen-Adams case, wherein the two Roswell, N. M., attorneys are charged with aggravated assault growing out of the incident which occurred in the lobby of the Angeltel hotel, in which it was alleged the attorneys attempted to take Mrs. Dorothy Pullen's child away from her, has been continued until the January term of the county court.

HIGH GRADE ORE IN BONNIE MINE

Manager Ryback Has Some Red Oxide Ore that Runs 35 Percent Copper.

O. Ryback, general manager of the Bonnie mine at Lordsburg, is in the city looking after a shipment of some high grade ore which he is now taking out of the mine on the 250-foot level. A wall of this red oxide ore eight feet thick has been encountered, and next week Mr. Ryback is going to begin crosscutting through the wall. The ore averages 12-15 percent copper and will run about $75 a ton, manager Ryback says, according to the smaller pieces. Selected samples of the ore ran 35 percent.

The Bonnie is now shipping two or three carloads of ore a week to the El Paso smelter and work is progressing steadily. Manager Ryback believes it is one of the best mines in the southwest and says it is now a proved property. He says the ore body on the 250-foot level is 20 feet wide and that the red oxide vein is eight feet. The rest of the ore is not so high in mineral, but is a good shipping ore.

Scene of Balkan War and Queens Who Are Aiding Wounded

Observe in this map how the allies of the Balkan states, in the form of a crescent (the holy sign of the Turks) are closing in on Constantinople. The Greeks at Salonika, the Montenegrins at Scutari, the Serbians at Belgrade and Monastir, and the Bulgarians at Adrianople, form a net from which, if they are victorious, there will be no escape for the Ottoman forces. Below are two of the Balkan queens who are devoting their time and energy to the organization of hospital corps and the collection of funds with which to care for the wounded and to take care of the wives and children of the men fighting at the front. They are, from left to right: Queen Eleanor, of Bulgaria, and Queen Milena, of Montenegro.

Miss Josephine Morton and Ruth Thompson entertained a few friends at a Halloween supper, all the decorations being carried out typically Halloween. The crowning feature was a large cake, on top of which was balanced a very life-like black cat. The chief amusement of the evening was cards. The guests were the Misses Medlar, Miller, Edna and Sylvia Anderson.

Miss Myrtle Thorner has returned to her home in Kelly, N. M.

Lord Shannon, of Douglas, Ariz., has returned to his home there.

On Friday, November 5, one of the biggest football games of the year will be played at Las Cruces between the college team and the University of Arizona. Dr. Garrison has declared a half-holiday for that day, no more school to be held until the following Monday, unless by chance the Arizona should be defeated, in which case there will be classes on Saturday.

Miss Lillian Parkery who has been quite ill with typhoid fever, is improving and will be able to return to school in a couple of weeks.

The masquerade ball given by the students in the gymnasium was largely attended and many very good disguises were noted.

Prof. Christensen gave an instructive talk on the "Constituents of proteins," followed by a general discussion of the address.

The executive committee of the Alumni association met at the home of the chairman, Mrs. M. L. Hoblit. The chairmanship was resigned and the place filled by Miss Fannie Ford for the balance of the year. The principal business transacted was the organization of the work to interest the old students in the old students' reunion set for May, 1913.

The Columbia held an enthusiastic meeting and an address was given by Prof. Vaughan on the legality of a disputed clause in the Pauncefote treaty concerning the payment of canal tolls through the Panama canal. Prof. Wiggs, who succeeds Prof. Kyle in the English department, was critic. The program for the next meeting is as follows: Paper, "A report of the Balkan war," John Bergrin; selection from "Masterpieces of Humor," Eckert Stablen; piano solo, Clarence Supple; debate, "Resolved, that our present immigration laws should be so amended as to provide further material restriction of immigration," affirmative, Russell Hanks, Norfolk; negative, Caspar Rea and Cassius Clay.
